

DC++ : Using DC++ : Some hubs block me from using DC++. How do I prevent them from doing this?

Question:

Answer:

There are two real solutions here,

1. Convince those hub owners that DC++ is a good thing, which in many cases can be hard because quite a few of them are just plain stupid and won't listen no matter what (even if you're only connected to their one hub and play by the same rules as nmdc users...)
2. Don't go into those hubs! There are plenty of good hubs that don't care or even support usage of ++
3. Modify the client, but that's not a good long-term option because it often leads to banning