DC++ : Using DC++ : What is a TTH Inconsistency?

Question: What is a TTH Inconsistency?

Answer: This message means that the file you have attempted to download contains a different TTH hash than the one in your download queue. There are two things you can do to fix this:

1. Search for the file by its TTH value to find another source for it.
2. Delete the file from your Download Queue and off the hard drive. Then re-add the file from the search window or userlist.
